

Sample Program Evaluation

An evaluation of your No Hit Zone program will support a successful implementation effort. Program evaluation will help your organization determine progress toward goals and identify strengths and weaknesses to be addressed. Possible evaluation measures that you may consider using within your pre-, post-, and/or periodic evaluation may include:

- Number of hitting occurrences observed or documented.
- Number of No Hit Zone interventions completed by staff members.
- Mapping and identification of high-risk areas where hitting is more likely to occur.
- Level of staff confidence in using supportive intervention strategies.
- Identification of possible barriers preventing staff from completing a supportive intervention.
- Effectiveness of staff member training regarding knowledge and skills.
- Level of staff satisfaction with the No Hit Zone program.
- Staff feedback regarding implementation of the No Hit Zone program.
- Staff attitudes and knowledge regarding corporal punishment and positive discipline alternatives following education and training.
- Staff member awareness of available family support resources within the community.
